SOURCE

1. The organization of the Bulgarian Army is proceeding feverishly. According to the present plan, the Bulgarian Army will be increased to ten divisions as soon as possible. All divisions should be suitable for combat.
2. As new units are formed they will be sent to the Bulgarian-Yugoslav frontier. A large Bulgarian force is concentrated at Dragoman; other large units are stationed at Kyustendil, Petrich and Pernik.
3. Much attention is being given to the northern sector of the Bulgarian-Yugoslav frontier since a concerted movement of guerrilla forces on Belgrade from Bulgaria, Rumania, and Hungary is envisaged.
4. German police and police instructors, brought from the USSR, have arrived in Sofia.
